PRESIDENTS' MESSAGE

AUGUST 2016

As we are in the middle of the summer and what a perfect day for our annual CCLI picnic. It was a little on the hot side but it is summer! This year's CCLI picnic was at Eisenhower Park and what a blast we had. We had our first CCLI Olympic games hosted by our very own Edmund Louie. We had tasty food, wonderful company and fun games. Read the details of this wonderful event elsewhere in this newsletter.

Don't forget the Chinese American Night this coming Sunday at Eisenhower Park. Our traditional dancers and lion troupe have been practicing on the weekends to make sure we have a great show. Bring some chairs, blankets, and food and enjoy the wonderful entertainment and appreciate our culture.

As a reminder don't forget to sign up for all the programs the Center has to offer in the coming school year. Even though it is a month away it will go by very soon as you don't want to miss out.

This month we also had our annual CCLI board of directors retreat where we discuss the plans for this coming year. We had some new and exciting ideas to move the Center forward. Thanks to Helen and Jimmy Chin for hosting this important meeting at their lovely home followed by a wonderful tasty barbecue.

Enjoy the beautiful weather outside and explore what Mother Nature has to offer. School is another month away so take advantage of the rest of the summer.

2016 CCLI Annual Picnic

“Let the Games begin!” declared co-Presidents Randy Yung and Chris Chiu as they lit the flame to kick off the 2016 CCLI Annual Picnic. This year the picnic was held on a beautiful, hot, sunny Sunday on July 17th at Eisenhower Park. Well over 120 family members and friends of CCLI came to celebrate the great outdoors and enjoy a backyard style BBQ in the park. Food was in abundance and the most talked about topic of the day was the variety on the grill – hamburgers, hot dogs, chicken, sausages and even fish balls (thanks Cindy Chiu)! Thanks to all our grill masters – Peter Gong, Randy Yung, Edmund Louie, Chris Chiu and Alex & Samantha Fong – who kept the food trays filled throughout the day while slaving over a super-hot grill in the baking sun. Even our grill masters were well done by the end of the day!

In the spirit of the 2016 Olympic Games, CCLI held its own version of the games to the delight of all CCLI athletes – young and wise! In the first event, “Who’s Your Daddy?” the first gold medal of the games was awarded to Abigail Gan who, while blindfolded, was able to correctly identify her daddy apart from 4 other dads just by feeling their rough (or not so rough) hands! In the next event, “Your Momma!” the laughter was non-stop when a blindfolded Kelly Ng incorrectly guessed me (Edmund Louie) as her momma by feeling the ankles of 4 other moms - including Mona her mom! Ok, for all you ladies out there - my secret to silky smooth ankles and skin? – St Ives Skin Renewing Lotion!

As the games progressed, more and more participants joined in the fun of competition. In the “Amazing Egg Race,” partners competed against one another racing with an egg on a spoon. In one race, Steve Polancic and his daughter Samantha had what looked like an insurmountable lead. The race was theirs to win, but just inches before the finish line; Steve ran too fast and dropped his egg! Gold medal winners in this event included Kathy Louie and Mona Ng, Jerry and Marcia Blecha, and Randy and Daniella Yung. The “Water Balloon Toss” event was won by Aaron Wong and Jonathan Chiu. Shortly after, the kids had a free-for-all water balloon fight that left Randy Yung, Kaitlyn Louie and Alex Fong totally soaked!

As other CCLI athletes played a competitive game of volleyball and mahjong, Theresa Wing received a gold medal in the “Face the Cookie” event as the only one that “almost” got an Oreo from her forehead to her mouth using only her facial muscles. The final event of the day was the “CCLI Kung Fu Warrior.” Each competitor had to go through a challenging obstacle course - egg sprint, hippo golf, waterfall, jumping jacks and tunnel crawl - to be declared CCLI Kung Fu Warrior. Gold medals were awarded in this event to Ted and Samantha Polancic, Alyssa and Olivia Fong, Kaitlyn Louie, Kelly Ng and Kevin Wong.

As the picnic drew to a close, the children toasted marshmallows and told me how much fun they had - especially the water balloon fight! Everyone who attended the picnic thoroughly enjoyed themselves - some even had the chance to meet CCLI members they haven't met before. The day truly exemplified what CCLI is all about – community, culture and family. Congrats to all our other gold medal winners which were not mentioned in this article. I declare the CCLI Annual Picnic of 2016 – a success!

SENIOR CLUB MEETING

Wednesdays, August 10th and August 24th (10:30am - 2:30pm)

Wednesdays, September 14th and September 28th (10:30am - 2:30pm)

What a month it has been! We decided to have another Mahjong marathon on the last Wednesday of the month and a record 65 people turned out. 9 tables of mahjong that began at 10am and closed up at 5pm. I believe would have been a regular work day (7 hours) for people still in the working world. Of course, we didn't just have mahjong. A game of Chinese chess was going on in one corner and our regular ping pong players and guitar players / singers were having their fun in another area of the Center.

Thanks to all our seniors who made food for us. There was so much food! Everything from noodles to fried rice to traditional Chinese dishes. Thank you to everyone who helped serve and clean up for the day. Special thanks to Dorothy Lin for obtaining the donations of bread from Panera and to Sham Gee who made egg omelets for breakfast sandwiches for all the seniors! Check out the pictures from that day!!

FOR A GREAT EXPERIENCE, COME JOIN THE JOURNAL COMMITTEE THIS FALL

The mission of this committee is to document the activities of our members of the past year's programs and events in the form of pictures and written editorials. In addition, we encourage our members to solicit from their merchants and people who provide personal services to advertise on our Journal. We also ask our members to buy advertisement spaces in the form of greetings to our members. The net proceeds go to fund our school, programs and activities for the upcoming year. This Journal is a souvenir and is distributed each March at our fundraising Chinese Lunar New Year Dinner. The participants from the annual dinners praised the pictures and content of the Journal.

Parents love to share their stories of the family verbally and with plenty of photographs and videos. We at the Center share these feelings and our membership consists of hundreds of families. The members of the Center span four generations ranging from the age of 4 to 90 plus.

Come join our Journal Committee this Fall and help them put together the family album of our Center. Help us gather and write articles, coordinate in pulling together the Journal, learn and practice using Publisher. You will have the greatest opportunity to hear from our board members, officers, and committee members their excitement when they write, talk and submit photographs about the programs and events they are involved with throughout the year. One of the most enjoyable feelings is to see our young alumni from the Chinese school go off to college or are now working, then submit their reflections of how the Center made a significant contribution to their lives.

An added plus is that those who share common interests eventually become new found friends. We share our pizzas, donuts, fast foods and the most delicious cheesecakes made in Nassau. We meet at the Center on Sundays and stay in contact with each other via email and share the duties of pulling the Journal together. We welcome all of you to join us. Our committee has various talents outside of the Journal work.
