PRESIDENTS' MESSAGE — SEPTEMBER 2017

After a summer of beaches, vacations and relaxation, the kids are ready to go back to school and the parents are preparing themselves for a semester of school, homework, sports practices and recitals. I'm excited for the noises again at the center. First day of classes start this month for the Center's Chinese language and traditional dance classes. Come in and register for the classes for your family. Ballroom dance classes and Toastmasters are opening up their registration again! Feel free to bring your partner in for a complimentary dance lesson and sit in on our Toastmasters class. I am also personally excited about the NEW young public speaking classes! Public speaking is an essential life skill to have and starting early makes it much easier in the end. Continue reading for information on the classes.

Upcoming events in September are our monthly meeting Friday, September 15th featuring Mo Yu Yee, "Night of the Cantonese opera at the Center" and a Tag Sale on Saturday, September 30th. Now is the time to clean and purge your house of any items you don't need and donate it to the Center for the Tag Sale. Drop off instructions are detailed elsewhere in this newsletter.

We hope to see you all soon with the start of our school year!

CCLI MEETING FRIDAY SEPTEMBER 15TH 7:30PM

GUEST SPEAKER MO YU YEE: "NIGHT AT THE CANTONESE OPERA IN OUR CENTER"

On Friday, September 15th the Center will open the 2017-2018-program season with a night of Cantonese Opera. Mrs. Mo Yu Yee (Mo) will be our guest speaker and vocalist. Mo will give us the history of its origin, its evolution and its relevance to this modern world today. She will vividly describe the awesome view of an opera house and the grand stage. Mo will talk about the beautiful gowns worn by the performers, both ladies and men. Our speaker will be accompanied by another singer, an accomplished erhu performer Sze Leung Tam, and Mr. Fung.

Mo will sing solo and in a duet in several selections covering special love, immense loyalty and a lonely heart awaiting the return of a loved one.

Mo spent years training her voice to sing on stage in Cantonese opera. She was so able to master the skills necessary to sing in this setting that she was invited to join tours throughout China and Hong Kong. In the last few years she has performed in New York City, most recently on Sunday, August 6th.

Mo retired as an administrator in a contract agency of the United States Department of Defense. She is in private business and juggles her time to perform in the Chinese operas. Mark your calendar for September 15th at 7:30PM to enjoy an evening of Chinese classical music.

Let me know by September 13th if you will be attending and the number of people with you. We need to provide enough food and refreshments for a light dinner. Thank you.

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 16, 2017 NASSAU COUNTY VIGIL FOR CHARLOTTESVILLE

The Nassau County Commission on Human Rights held a vigil for the victims and families of the horrific events in Charlottesville, Virginia. Our own CCLI member and Board of Commissioners member Shirley Shing stood on the steps of the Executive & Legislative building in Mineola with her fellow commissioners. Many speeches were made condemning acts of racism and prejudice.

CHINESE AMERICAN NIGHT ON AUGUST 6, 2017

Pre-Show lawn arts & crafts

Co-emcees Shirley Shing & Lu Yu

The 2017 Chinese American Night held at the Harry Chapin Lakeside Theatre in Eisenhower Park was awesome! Helen Chin, who has been coordinating this event with the Nassau County Parks Department for the past 33 years has done it again; beginning with the pre-show on the lawn to recognizing wonderful people and organizations by the Nassau County Executive Office to the dazzling and wonderful performances that were presented on the stage. Our preshow lawn activities from 6-7pm included great arts and crafts tables making origami, tissue flowers and red lantern envelopes manned by Sham Gee, Ellen Loo Gee, Mona Ng, Jane Wong, Janice and Warren Chew, Dorothy Lin and Betty Leong; and a huge demonstration of the Yuanji Energy Music Therapeutic Dance that harmonizes and energizes the mind, heart, body and spirit coordinated by Lotus Wu with the Yanji Society, Inc. While the preshow was happening, on the side of the stage, CCLI scholarships were presented to deserving young individuals organized by coordinators Robert Wong, Tony Mok and their scholarship committee. At 7pm, the Nassau County Executive Offices via Nassau County Comptroller George Maragos began tonight's event with honoring and recognizing the following organizations and individuals: Sinovision, Syosset Chinese American Association, South China University of Technology, Alumni USA Association, Edward Chung, CPA, Sham Quon Chin Gee, Tian Tian, Janis Lam, Lynn Lin, Tim Lau, Bill Wang, Dr. Ping Lau Chow, Jessica Xu, Wenling Cheng, Richard Chuang, Bryant Lew, Deborah Seto Yau and Tai & Tony Wang. After this, Nassau County Comptroller George Maragos then handed the microphone to Lotus Wu who introduced tonight's emcees, Shirley Shing, stepping in for Helen Chin, who was in Florida getting ready for a Disney cruise with her family, and Lu Yu, translator and co-emcee. What a beautiful and pleasant evening it was. The lawn had chairs and blankets all the way up the hill and later when it got dark, you could see the moonlit clear sky. The next two hours went by so quickly from one performance after another with no breaks at all. The show began with the CCLI's Lion Troupe bringing good luck, power, and chasing away all the evil spirits as they were showcasing new lion heads that sparkled in the evening sunlight as they came down the hill. Then, the New York Chinese Chorus led by 90 years old, Master Conductor Wu Guo Chun sang favorite folk tunes. Next is the amazing 16 years old Pianist Jarrad Li, a student of CCLI member Master Pianist Joseph Graziose, performance, followed by the Huangmei Opera Troupe vocalists singing in one of China's oldest opera styles. Then the lively Mongolian dance by the Colors of the Wind Dance Co, comprised mostly of grandmothers! Next were dynamic martial arts demonstrations including a special tai chi demonstration by the world Tai Chi champion Sitan Chen and international Wushu judge Lynn Lin. Chinese instruments were performed by the renowned Cao Bao An Orchestra and did you know that there's a Chinese Sign Language Music for the deaf as performed by the Tzu Chi Buddhist Church members? A beautiful dance duet was then performed by CCLI's master dance teachers, Gina Chen and Alanna Chan showcasing the harmony of Eastern dance and Western dance, the spirals and circles versus ballet and modern dance of linear and elongated movements. Then, from New Jersey, the Xiaofang Huangmei Arts Academy gave us an exquisite fashion show of the traditional Chinese dress known as the Qipao in Mandarin or Cheongsam in Cantonese. Next is Danniew Li, a Chinese pop star singing Wu Kong, the Monkey King in a non-traditional manner. Culmination of the evening was CCLI Traditional Alumni Dancers performing the joyful Handkerchief Dance, choreographed by Gina Chen. Tonight's successful event took coordination and teamwork by Center board members, spouses of our board members, teachers, alumni and members. There are so many people involved, a few have been named, but then there are those whose names are unknown, but are thanked. You've made connections with reporters and media to promote tonight's event. You were behind the scenes before, during and after the event. You've driven your children for the lion troupe and dance classes, for extra dance classes, and for extra performances. You've brought backdrops for pictures, taken pictures, taken videos and posted tonight's event. You've invited family and friends to enjoy an evening out on the lawn. What a great organization of caring and wonderful people. –Shirley Shing

LONG ISLAND CHINESE AMERICAN NIGHT SCHOLARSHIP AWARDS ON AUGUST 6, 2017

On August 6, 2017 the Chinese Center on Long Island awarded $100 Long Island Chinese American Night Scholarships to six high school students for not only their academic achievements, but also for their personal involvements at school and in the community-at-large.

1. Johnny Wu – is a junior at Jericho HS. He emigrated to the US just 4 years ago, but since then, Johnny has overcome the language difficulties. He succeeds in mathematics and sciences having received medals and usually placed top 10 in several NYS science competitions. He likes chess and gives back to the community primary school as a volunteer to coach young chess players among others. Chinese traditions and culture are highly valued. He's also a member of the Chinese Jericho Association.
2. Ryan Pan – is a junior at the Great Neck South HS. Ryan is very much interested in the animal rescue and environmental cleanup causes in the community. Ryan is a fan of Chinese folklore literature and loves Chinese food, who doesn't if it's cooked traditionally and correctly! His father is an active member of the Sun-Yat-Sen University Alumni Association.
3. Emily Chen – is a senior and has just graduated from the Syosset HS. She will be attending the Commonwealth Honors College at UMass, Amherst. Emily is a wushu –kung fu player having won competition medals for her skills. She likes to use her graphic and computer skills to design brochures, flyers, and such to promoting Chinese culture for her wushu school and the Chinese American Association of Syosset.
4. Cailin Chan – is a senior and has graduated from the Seaford HS. She will be going to the Guttman Community College in the fall. Cailin loves the language and dance classes at the CCLI Center. She's performed the lion dance and Chinese Folklore traditional dance at numerous venues including at the Museum of Modern Art, always with a smile.
5. Timothy Bartoldus – is a sophomore at the Rockville Centre HS. He grew up learning the lion dance performances and languages at CCLI. Timothy not only is the assistant lion master on numerous occasions, but he also takes the lead and has choreographed several lion dance performances.
6. Cassie Tammy Wang- is a Junior Reporter of the China Press. She has numerous writing, artistic and community service awards. Her resume also included many published press reports. A very impressive list.

SENIOR CLUB MEETING

Wednesdays (10:30-2:30) September 13th and September 27th
Wednesdays (10:30-2:30) October 11th and October 27th

Charlie Chan giving cooking lessons at the Senior Club.

CHARLIE'S STICKY ROLLS (CHEUNG FUN)

For the Cheung Fun Skin:
5 T. rice flour
5 T. Wheat starch
2 T. Tapioca starch
1 1/2 T Corn starch
2 C. ice water
Sauce:
1 T. Oyster sauce
1 T. Lite soy sauce
1 T. Dark soy sauce
1 T. Sesame oil
2 T. sugar
5 T. water
Mix the sauce together for dipping.
Filling:
Roast Pork
Scallions
Eggs (beaten together)
Sausage
Stir-fry the filling mixture together. Cut the omelet mixture into thin strips.

Mix the Cheung Fun mixture together. Heat up a wok to get ready to steam the rolls. Find a steamable plate (large or oval) plate that will fit into the wok. Scoop the Cheung Fun liquid mixture slowly onto a steamable plate. It should just be a thin layer that fully covers the plate. Place the plate onto the wok and steam for 2 to 3 minutes. Check for doneness. It should be a little bubbly but with no wetness. Take the plate out and immediately place it on top of the bowl of ice water for a minute. Remove. With a small silicone spatula slowly lift the edge of sticky roll layer, place strips of the omelets onto the layer and begin rolling it. You can now cut the roll into pieces. Continue the same process with the rest of the liquid mixture. The pieces are now ready to dip into the sauce and eat. Enjoy!

CHARLIE'S BLACK SESAME ROLLS

8 oz. tapioca starch
4 oz. rice flour
3 T. Black sesame seed powder
Sesame seeds
2 1/2 Sticks of Brown Sugar - melted in 8 oz. water then mixed into 2/3 C. of cold water & regular water for a total of 32 oz.
Large bowl of Ice water

Heat up a wok to get ready to steam the rolls. Find a steamable plate (large or oval) plate that will fit into the wok. Mix the starch, flour and sesame powder together. Now pour the powder mixture into the Brown sugar liquid mixture. Scoop the liquid mixture slowly onto a steamable plate. It should just be a thin layer that fully covers the plate. Place the plate onto the wok and steam for 2 to 3 minutes. Check for doneness. It should be a little bubbly but with no wetness. Take the plate out and immediately place it on top of the bowl of ice water for a minute. Remove. With a small silicone spatula slowly lift the edge of sesame layer and begin rolling it. You can now cut the roll into pieces and it is ready to eat. Continue the same process with the rest of the liquid mixture. Enjoy!

SENIOR CLUB MEETINGS IN AUGUST 2017

It was a busy month. Over 40 seniors came out to the Center to enjoy mahjong, Ping-Pong, bingo, chair exercises, sing-alongs, a cooking lesson and our huge feast of food. Thank you to our volunteers and seniors for their dishes and for helping out.

Our CCLI friends celebrated Irma and Ong Wu's 59th Wedding Anniversary at the Center with a delicious anniversary cake, cupcakes and almond cookies. Congratulations Irma and Ong! Wishing both of you many, many more!

After three senior meetings of bingo games, Warren finally won one of the coveted black T-shirts. Our other bingo winners were Irma Wu and Mabel Wong. Our winners all had a chance to select a prize from our CCLI grab bag. Thank you Sham Gee for being our Master of the bingo cage and calling the numbers. Our seniors also enjoyed a 20-minute chair exercise workout conducted by Mona Ng. She went through some easy breathing, gentle neck, arm and leg exercises for our seniors before we all feasted on the delicious dishes our seniors cooked. Check out all the pictures below.

We had another cooking lesson from our senior, Master Chef Charlie Chan. He decided to surprise us with a double cooking lesson. Although the ingredients are different, the cooking method is exactly the same. He taught us how to make the Sticky Roll Cheung Fun and Black Sesame Roll. It was so much fun for our seniors to actually work together during this lesson. Thank you Charlie for this impromptu lesson! Charlie's recipes are listed above.
